IAM statement on passage of no-fault reform legislation from the Michigan Senate

LANSING – The following is a statement from Pete Kuhnmuench, executive director of the Insurance Alliance of Michigan.

“We welcome efforts to fix Michigan’s broken, outdated auto no-fault system, which has caused insurance premiums to climb to some of the highest in the country,” said Pete Kuhnmuench, executive director of the Insurance Alliance of Michigan. “Michigan drivers have been clamoring for reform, and we see this legislation as a step in the right direction. However, to truly deliver cost savings to consumers, the Legislature should also rein in hospital overcharging and give consumers a choice in their level of medical coverage.”
